Application Review Process:

The Destination Business BootCamp is designed to instruct individual business owners. Every application is reviewed on an individual basis, and The Schallert Group, Inc. has the right to accept or deny any registration of any potential attendee. Additionally, we are often asked permission by consultants, trainers, ad agencies, national for-profit franchises, buying groups, national corporations, and associations to have their marketing and training personnel attend a BootCamp, so that Jon Schallert's Destination Business strategies can be utilized by their collective networks. Any of these groups who wish to utilize Jon's Destination Business strategies must enter into a License Agreement with The Schallert Group, Inc. prior to being accepted for attendance to the Destination Business BootCamp. Please contact The Schallert Group, Inc. for pricing and licensing terms.

Our Cancellation Policy:

Since our BootCamps are limited in attendance, canceling your attendance at the BootCamp after you have registered has a greater effect than a cancellation to attend a typical conference. As a result, our Cancellation Policy is unique and should be thoroughly understood before registering for any upcoming BootCamp.

Should you be unable to attend our BootCamp for any reason, please inform us in writing that you will be unable to attend. If your cancellation is received 60-days before the first day of the BootCamp, the amount you have paid will be refunded. If you cancel between 45-60 days prior to the first day of the BootCamp, the amount you have paid will be refunded, less a non-refundable deposit of $250. If you cancel less than 45 days before the first day of the BootCamp, the amount you have paid, less a non-refundable deposit of $250, will be credited to a Schallert Group, Inc. future BootCamp, product, or consulting service.

Please note that if you don't cancel and don't attend, you are responsible for payment in full. Substitutions may be made at any time by calling our office, giving us the name of the substitute attendee, and that person being accepted through our normal application review process.
